

Fremantle and Perth, Australia

It is March 23, 2019 and Lanee and I arrived in Fremantle, Australia, this is a port city of about 25,000 people. The sky was blue and cloud free and that combined with a slight breeze and comfortable temperature made for a very nice day. We toured Fremantle on a city trolley (took about 15 minutes) and saw some nice older homes and buildings. We then went into Perth, Australia by ferry on Swan River and saw hundreds of people out sailing their boats. We took a Hop-on-Hop-off bus in Perth and saw the city. We then took a train back to Fremantle and boarded the Sea Princess for three days at sea before our next stop.

Perth, Australia is the capital and largest city of the Australian state of Western Australia. It is the fourth-most populous city in Australia, with a population slightly over two million in Greater Perth. Perth has an average of 8.8 hours of sunshine per day making it the sunniest capital city in Australia. The lowest temperature recorded in Perth was 25.9 degrees F on June 17, 2006. The highest temperature recorded in Perth was 116.1 degrees F on February 23, 1991. Average summer temperatures in January is 90.1 degrees, making it one of the warmer cities we have visited.

Fremantle, Australia

Swan River by Ferry

It was a beautiful day and people were out on their boats. We saw sever hundred sailing that day enjoying the end of summer for them.
